Golf

- Named after Joseph McCall, the first President of the Philadelphia Electric Company, the property was acquired to serve as a recreation destination for the exclusive use of employees and their families. The grounds provided picnic groves, baseball fields, tennis courts and ultimately a golf course.
- Two world renowned course architects, Donald Ross and William Flynn were commissioned to layout the 18 hole "Short Course."
- The Golf Club is private and is comprised of Exelon/Constellation Memberships and Associate Community Members.
